

Websites:

www.fairfoodproject.org/main/

You'll find three short, slide shows about the lives of three groups: Farms Workers, Farmers, and Farm Advocates. Excellent resource pages eg. Agriculture Justice Project, Local Fair Trade, Immokalee, etc.

<http://www.jhsph.edu/clf/> Johns Hopkins University Bloomberg School of Public Health – Center for a Livable Future – Diet, health, food production and the environment are all elements of a single system – articles, etc.

<http://www.gracelinks.org/> Umbrella site for Sustainable table, Eat well guide, h2O Guide, and Network for New Energy Choices.

Two-page reports on everything from additives, antibiotics, economics, poverty & hunger, water, workers with blogs, recipes, news, resources...

www.cspinet.org

Center for Science in the Public Interest. Advocate for nutrition and health, food safety, alcohol policy, and sound science. Six Arguments for Eating Green <http://www.communitysolution.org/index.html> “What can we do about climate change and peak oil? See New Solutions # 13 – “Food, feed and fuel”

<http://www.montereybayaquarium.org/cr/seafoodwatch.aspx>

Updated seafood pocket guides by regions of the U.S., articles, recipes, etc.

<http://www.ecoliteracy.org/essays/pleasures-eating> Essay by Wendell Berry, farmer, poet and agricultural activist, “The Pleasures of Eating”.

www.nrdc.org/health/foodmiles/ - Want to know what's in season locally any month of the year? Check out this Natural Resources Defense Council guide.

<http://www.foodandwaterwatch.org> Food & Water Watch is a non-profit organization working with grassroots organizations around the world to advocate policies that guarantee safe, wholesome food and to protect the environment.

http://www.ciwf.org.uk/what_we_do/factory_farming/eating_the_planet.aspx EU 20-page report, “How to feed the world without trashing it”.

www.wellfedworld.org/scarcity.htm> See resource pages

<http://www.michaelpollan.com/article.php?id=55> “An animal's place” by M. Pollan.

<http://www.uua.org/socialjustice/issuesprocess/currentissues/ethicaleating/index.shtml> UUA Ethical Eating Guide – Great background and bibliographies